INTRODUCTION

In the Proceedings of the Connecticut State Medical Society for 1919, pages 45, 46 and 49, the following appears:

"REPORT OF THE MILITARY COMMITTEE OF THE CONNECTICUT STATE MEDICAL SOCIETY AND OF THE SUB COMMITTEE ON THE MARYLAND PLAN.

Mr. President and Gentlemen of the House of Delegates:

During the early part of the war, after this country was involved, the mobilization of the medical profession was done in part by the Council of National Defense, through its State Committee; in part by circularization from the office of the American Medical Association, and finally by circulars sent out from the Surgeon General's office.

When the State Society appointed for its War Committee those men who had been active for the state, it simply continued the activity on the same lines. Any report that involved only the activities after the appointment of the War Committee would be altogether incomplete and would not represent at all the activities of the medical profession of the state.

Because your Committee felt that there were many questions that would come up immediately which would make complete lists, of the men who had gone into the Service and those who had been identified with the Selective Service, necessary for the Society, it was attempted to obtain an accurate list of both these classes of men.

It was attempted to obtain a list from the Surgeon General's office but we were informed that there was not a list so kept by states. The list of the Journal had been kept up by Dr. Wheeler and a second check-up was obtained from that office. The Secretary of the State Society sent out to each County Society for detailed reports. All these lists have been checked up on the lists of the committee of the profession of the state, which is the most accurate list of the medical profession of the state that has ever been made. With all this effort it became apparent that it would be impossible to obtain an accurate list that would be suitable for incorporation in the Proceedings of this Society.

What has been said of the men who went into the service may also be said of the men who did noble work on the draft boards. In the Provost Marshal General's office there is only the record of those who were officially appointed while some of the best work was done by men whose names were never on any list. These two lists can only be made complete and accurate by correspondence involving some expense. It will mean a historical record of the accomplishment of the medical profession of the state.

Your Committee recommends that it be discharged and that the completion of the data of its work be left to an historical report of the part that the medical profession of Connecticut took in the world war.

Respectfully submitted for the Committee,

(signed) D. CHESTER BROWN, Chairman."

It was voted that a committee be appointed by the President to be called "Committee on the History of the Medical Profession of Connecticut in the World War."

The President, Dr. Charles J. Bartlett, appointed the following:

Dr. Frank H. Wheeler, Chairman, and Drs. D. Chester Brown, George Blumer, Walter R. Steiner, and the Secretary.

In 1920 this Committee reported to the Society as follows:¹

"Mr. President and Members of the House of Delegates:

Your Committee on the History of the Medical Profession of Connecticut in the World War did not, at first, appreciate the magnitude of the task which you gave them one year ago.

We found that we must first of all get a complete list of all the men who had received commissions from the United States Government and who were accredited to this State; next a list of all that were appointed on the various examining boards and finally a list of those who had been enrolled in the Volunteer Medical Service Corps.

The second and third lists were comparatively easy to obtain. That of the men who had received commissions was much more difficult. It necessitated comparing and checking up many fragmentary lists and a considerable correspondence. All this took much time and the hard and busy winter interrupted us. The getting of addresses is still going on but we now have a list which we think approximates perfection though it is yet undergoing minor revisions. It contains 503 names and the post office addresses of all but about twenty.

In order to get reliable statistics we had to communicate with each individual. For this purpose we sent out a form letter and a questionnaire which was to be filled out and returned. (A copy of each is appended.) Four hundred and eighty-two of these have been mailed and the balance will be sent out as soon as we get the addresses.

Three hundred and thirty-one questionnaires have been returned leaving one hundred and fifty-one still to come. They are coming in all the time, slowly. We propose to ultimately have them bound in book form and deposited in some secure place as the Society may determine.

It is probable that this report will contain the only available record of the medical men of this State who did their part in helping to win the world war. It is desirable therefore that it be made as complete as possible. About 170 men are still to be heard from and very little has been done toward collating the statistics gathered.

Your Committee would therefore respectfully request that this report be accepted as one of progress and the committee be continued to make a final report at some future time."

It was voted that the committee be continued.

In 1921 the Committee reported:²

"Mr. President and Gentlemen of the House of Delegates:

Your Committee appointed to gather the data concerning the activities of the medical men of this State during the World War would report that we have secured practically complete information from 494 men and that there remain 101 men on our list yet to be heard from. Your Committee is of the opinion that if given more time the most of this information can be secured.

We would therefore beg leave to report progress and request that the time be extended for making our final report."

Dr. Wheeler presented some statistics derived from the reports received to illustrate the work the committee had already accomplished.

It was voted to accept the report and continue the committee.

In 1922 the Committee reported:³

"Mr. President and Gentlemen of the House of Delegates:

Your Committee on the 'History of the Medical Profession of Connecticut in the World War' would report that material progress has been made on the work during the year.

The data concerning the 519 men who were enrolled in the Volunteer Medical Service Corps are complete and that chapter written. Also the information regarding the seventeen Medical Advisory Boards is written up. Of the forty-four Draft Boards in the State we have complete information regarding thirty-four. The lists of the various war committees are practically finished. There were 105 doctors who applied for a commission in the army or navy and were found to be disqualified. We have a complete list of these men and the cause for the disqualification in each case.

From the best information obtainable by the Committee there appear to have been 506 men who entered the Service. Questionnaires were sent to all of these and to some other doubtful ones. Up to the present time we have received 450 replies. Forty-three men whose addresses we know have not replied though several letters, asking for the desired information, have been sent to them. There were fifteen men who we have reason to believe were in the Service but whose addresses we have not been able to obtain.

The work of editing the questionnaires is progressing. About 125 have already been gone over. The statistical part of the work is nearly complete but must have a final revision and checking up. Altogether we now have complete data regarding over one thousand men.

Your Committee is more anxious that you are, Gentlemen, to have this work finished, but as was remarked to the speaker by Mr. Godard, the State Librarian, who is doing a similar work for the whole State, it is better to go slowly and have the result right and complete than to hurry and have it practically valueless.

Time, Patience and Perseverance overcometh all things. Perseverance we have—some; Patience can be cultivated but Time can be granted to us only by the Almighty and this Society."

"Dr. Wheeler further informed the House of Delegates of some of the detail of preparing the work and read extracts from some of the completed chapters."

"Voted, to accept the report and place it on file; that the Society gladly granted the Committee all the time necessary and devoutly hoped the Almighty would take similar action especially with regard to the Chairman of the Committee."

In 1923 the Committee reported:⁴

"Mr. President and Gentlemen of the House of Delegates:

Your Committee on the History of the Medical Profession of Connecticut in the World War would report that very little progress has been made on the History during the last year.

⁴Proceedings of 1923, pp. 57, 58.

This is principally due to the fact that the sources of information seem to have dried up. There are about fifty men who were in the Service but who have failed to send in their questionnaires in spite of the fact that they have been requested over and over again to do so. The same is true for ten men who will not send in the names of the doctors who assisted them on the Draft Boards.

The abstracting of the questionnaires that are now in has not progressed very much because of the fact that the member of the committee who is doing that work has been too busy to attend to it. However, Dr. Blumer has promised to lend his aid during this summer and we hope that this part of the History will then be completed.

It would be unfortunate to present a final report with the information regarding so many men wanting and your Committee therefore desires an opportunity to make one more effort to obtain it."

"Voted, to accept the report and place it on file."

In the Proceedings of 1924, pages 47, 48 and 49, the following appears:

"Mr. President and Gentlemen of the House of Delegates:

Your Committee on the History of the Medical Profession of Connecticut in the World War is now prepared to present its final report.

Our first act, when appointed five years ago, was to formulate a questionnaire to be sent out to each of the doctors in this State who had received a commission in the M. O. R. C. or the M. C. of the U. S. Army or Navy. It was a difficult task to obtain the addresses of all these men and it required considerable correspondence and personal work, for we availed ourselves of all thinkable and possible means. In the aggregate something over five hundred were sent out, nearly all of which we are certain reached their proper destination.

We have had returned over four hundred with all the questions more or less fully answered. These contain an enormous amount of information as to the activities of the men who were in the Service. The details vary from a bare statement of facts to an extended story of the kind of work done and the experiences encountered.

These questionnaires were all returned to the Chairman of the Committee and it seemed to him that an abstract of each questionnaire should be made giving in a systematic way all the essential facts and eliminating the verbosity contained in many of them. This was a tedious undertaking but it has been accomplished. The history of four hundred and eighteen doctors who were in the Service is given in the same schematic way.

There are twelve men who gave Connecticut as their home State whose addresses we have never been able to obtain. It is probable that in some of these cases the records are wrong and that they came from other States.

Twenty-eight men, in spite of our very persistent and most persuasive letters, have never replied. Probably some of them were not commissioned or refused a commission and do not like to say so.

Our data regarding the physicians who, though not commissioned, were actively engaged in 'War Work' is very complete.

It consists of:—

(1) A list of all physicians who applied for a commission and were disqualified, including the reason for the disqualification.

(2) A list of the forty-four Draft Boards, their jurisdiction, the name of the medical member and the names of all the doctors who assisted in making the examinations.

(3) The location of, and all the doctors who served on the fourteen Medical Advisory Boards.

(4) The three District Boards and all the doctors who served on each.

(5) The two M. R. C. examining boards.

(6) The various committees, containing medical men, that were appointed either by the U. S. Government or by the State.

(7) The names of all the doctors, over five hundred, who were enrolled in the 'Volunteer Medical Service Corps.'

Inasmuch as the questionnaires which were returned contain, in addition to the material used by the committee, much that is intensely interesting as experiences encountered by the men individually and comments on medical army life, all of which is of human and historical value, your Committee recommend that they be presented to the Connecticut State Library. Mr. Godard is anxious to get them and will have them bound in permanent book form.

In conclusion your Committee desires to thank the A. M. A. for assistance in getting addresses; Mr. Godard, the State Librarian, for valuable help in many ways; and all the men who have contributed to or assisted in getting together this valuable information."

"Voted, to accept the report and place it on file."

"Voted, to accept the recommendation of the Council, in the consideration of the report of the Chairman of the Committee on the History of the Medical Profession of Connecticut in the World War:

1. That a vote of appreciation and thanks be tendered the committee for the compilation of records and data of distinct historical value;

2. That the Committee be authorized to present to the Connecticut State Library, for permanent custody, in behalf of the Society, the original manuscript records known as 'Questionnaires' and such other records as the Committee considers to possess historical value;

3. That the abstracts of the individual records and the records of all others engaged in 'war work' be published in a separate bound volume as a Supplement to the 'Proceedings' of the Society, for distribution to members, libraries, and other suitable places, at such time as the funds of the Society will permit;

4. That the present Committee be not discontinued, but be reappointed until it has completely prepared this data for publication and actual publication is realized—a part of the duty imposed upon the Committee by the previous House of Delegates."

REPORT

REPORT

Mr. President and Members of the Connecticut State Medical Society:

After six years' work in collecting the necessary information your "Committee on the History of the Medical Profession of Connecticut in the World War" now presents you with the result of their labors, printed in book form as you directed.

Our work has been rather unduly prolonged but we have reported to you annually as to its progress and the difficulties encountered. Some of the data required has become available only during the last year. We thank you for your confidence; we are grateful for your patience and we have admired your optimism in believing that some day the work would be finished.

The first activity of the Committee, after its appointment in 1919, was to formulate the following questionnaire (see pp. 19-21).

This questionnaire was sent to over four hundred men who were known to have been commissioned in the Army or Navy and to about one hundred others who were supposed to have received commissions, or who had applied with no record of having been disqualified.

Obtaining the addresses of all these was a difficult task as some of the men, after their discharge, scattered to all parts of the world. In a number of cases relatives and friends had to be communicated with before the man could be located. We have written letters to nearly every state in the Union, including Alaska. Also to England, France, Italy and China. The obituary records of this Society and of Yale University have been the source of our information in several cases.

In spite of all this, however, there are twelve who, the committee had reason to believe, were in the service but whose addresses they have never been able to obtain. Twenty-nine, many of them personally known to the committee, have failed to return their questionnaires through repeatedly requested to do so.

We received over five hundred replies, four hundred and sixty-seven being returned questionnaires. Some of these are extremely interesting reading, containing as they do many side lights on the work and experiences of an "Army Doctor." They are too long to be included in this History. They will, however, always be available as the questionnaires are to be bound and placed in the State Library at Hartford.

Some, in filling them out, were very meager in the amount of information given, just answering the direct questions and occasionally not all of these. Others were quite verbose. In order to make the stories as uniform as possible it was deemed best to give only a succinct résumé of each one.

These now follow :

ADDRESS ALL LETTERS TO

27 PERKINS STREET
NEW HAVEN, CONNECTICUT

NEW HAVEN, CONN., Nov. 1, 1919

The Connecticut State Medical Society appointed this committee to collect the data and put on record all the facts regarding the participation of the Medical Profession of the State of Connecticut in the World War. This is to include the war activities of the entire profession of the State whether members of any medical society or not.

The work of those who, though officially connected with the Government, had their activities confined to home localities is just as important as the work done by those who were sent overseas and should be just as fully explained.

All the data must be obtained by personal communication as the lists at Washington, formerly available by states, are no longer filed in that manner.

It is urgently requested that every medical man and woman in the State assist the committee in making this a full and complete historical record, that future generations may know of the great work done by the Medical Profession in this War.

The Committee asks you to kindly fill out the enclosed questionnaire, at your earliest convenience, and mail it in the enclosed envelope.

By direction of the President, under provisions of the act of Congress approved July 9, 1918, (Bul. No. 43, W. A bronze oak leaf is awarded to him for the following act of extraordinary heroism: On September 26, 1918, near Marcheville, France, he displayed the highest courage and devotion to duty, being continually present on the front line, administering first aid to the wounded under violent artillery and machine-gun fire."

Awarded, Distinguished Service Medal.

"For exceptionally meritorious and distinguished services as the organizer and administrator of army schools for the development of laboratory personnel, thereby contributing one of the most important measures for the prevention and control of epidemic diseases throughout the army."

Christobel to rescue the men from the 'Florence H,' which vessel loaded with explosives, was burned in the harbor of Quiberon on the night of the 17th of April, 1918. Almost immediately after the outbreak of the fire the water in the vicinity of the Florence H was covered with burning powder boxes many of which exploded, scattering flames throughout the wreckage. The officers and crew of the Christobel's boats drove their boats into the burning mess and succeeded in saving the lives of many men who but for the help so promptly and heroically given must have perished in the wreckage."

HEADQUARTERS MOBILE HOSPITAL NO. ONE,
American Expeditionary Forces, France.

From: Commanding Officer 18th December, 1918.
To: Chief Surgeon, A. E. F., through Director of Professional Services.
Subject: Recommendation for Promotion:

1. Major William F. Verdi, Chief of Surgical Team No. 129, operated in this hospital from September 10th to October 26th, 1918. The work performed by this Surgeon, especially on the lung, was of the highest character.

2. Of the many Surgeons of prominence who operated in this hospital, Major Verdi impressed me as the most conservative, rational and conscientious of them all.

3. His soldierly and gentlemanly qualities are in keeping with his professional ability.

4. Therefore, I most heartily recommend him for promotion to the grade of Lieutenant Colonel, Medical Corps.

DONALD MACRAE, JR.
Lieut. Col. Medical Corps.

Office of Director of Professional Services, G. H. Q., 23d December, 1918.
To: The Chief Surgeon, A. E. F., SOS.,

1. Forwarded, approved:

2. Major Verdi served as stated by Colonel Macrae in that hospital during the period of greatest activity and it is expressing it mildly to simply say that he is one of the most efficient and conscientious surgeons we have had in the Zone of Advance. His work has been a model for others in the institution that he was connected with and I hope that this recommendation will receive early consideration.

W. L. KELLER,
Colonel, Medical Corps,
Director of Professional Services.

(Personal Note)

Dear Major Verdi:

Your letter of the 21st inst. has just been received and I was delighted to hear from you again. Attached herewith is Col. Macrae's letter and my indorsement. The President has been interviewed on the promotion question and everything is promising.

Sincerely yours,

(Signed) W. L. KELLER.

HEADQUARTERS FIFTH ARMY CORPS,
American Expeditionary Forces,
France.

7th February, 1919.

From: Commanding General, 5th Army Corps, American E. F.

To: Commanding Officer, Mobile Hospital No. 1.

Subject: Care of Wounded.

1. The Corps Commander desires to communicate to you his expressions of deep appreciation of the distinguished services rendered by your command to the Fifth Army Corps during the St. Mihiel and Meuse-Argonne operations. Throughout the services with this Corps, the officers, soldiers and nurses gave proof of a skill and a self-sacrificing devotion to duty that is beyond all praise. Through their ministrations, our wounded received every comfort and assistance that human sympathy could administer.

2. Lt. Col. Donald Macrae, Jr., who was in Command of the hospital, performed wonders in the way of operation upon fearfully wounded cases, some of whom were almost moribund, and saved the lives of apparently hopeless cases during the days following the advance of September 26th. The hospital received and cared for more than 200 extremely difficult cases between September 27th and 30th. Notwithstanding the great delay in having the wounded reach the hospital, because of congestion of the roads, and the complications and difficulties of operating, the whole personnel of the hospital displayed the most unrelenting and conscientious devotion and labored day and night, without thought of self or comfort. Col. Macrae requested that his hospital be moved further forward in order to receive the wounded more promptly, and explained that his officers and nurses had no fear of shells and were only anxious to do all that was possible for the care of the wounded.

3. To the noble women nurses of this hospital, the Corps is especially indebted. They brought comfort and assistance to our wounded which none but women of such high attainments and ideals could administer. Their labors were an inspiration and they have written a new chapter in the annals of womanhood which in future will be cherished by our people.

4. I beg that you will communicate my sentiments to each officer, soldier and nurse who contributed to the care of our wounded by whose sacrifices the military operations were brought to a successful conclusion.

C. P. SUMMERALL,
Major General.

EXAMINING BOARDS

DRAFT BOARDS

The Selective Service Law of May 18, 1917, provided that there should be raised by draft an army of something over a million men. To arrange for this draft, the Governor of each State was made responsible for dividing his State into districts, one for each thirty thousand of population or approximately that number.

In accordance with this regulation, the Governor of Connecticut divided his State into forty-four registration districts. Twenty-three of these were officially known as "State Divisions" and were numbered from 1 to 23 inclusive. These covered all of the country towns and the smaller cities. The larger cities had several "Local Districts" each of which was numbered for that particular city.

The selection for the draft was made by means of a local board for each registration district. This board consisted of three members of whom at least one was a physician, "in whom the Governor feels that he can place implicit confidence." Theoretically this physician made all of the examinations for the board. Practically, however, this was impossible and in almost all cases he was assisted by other local physicians who volunteered their services.

On November 8, 1917, there were promulgated new Selective Service Regulations which became effective December 15, 1917. Under these regulations the local boards were permitted to appoint additional physicians to assist in making the physical examinations.

In the examination of the first draft of over five hundred thousand men the finding of the medical member of the local board was final since the District Board (q.v.) only passed formally on the results of the physical examinations. In the new regulations of November 8, 1917 this was changed by providing for the appointment of Medical Advisory Boards (q.v.).

The following are the Local Boards with their jurisdictions and the names of the physicians who served on each:

DISTRICT BOARDS

The Selective Service Regulations of May 18, 1917 provided for a District Board for each Federal Judicial District. These boards acted as boards of appeal from the local boards principally on questions of exemption and deferred classification although they did pass, formerly, on the medical examinations.

Each District Board consisted of five members, one of whom was a physician.

There were three such boards in this State, as follows:

DISTRICT BOARD No. 1

Headquarters: Hartford.

Jurisdiction: Counties of Hartford, Litchfield, Windham and Tolland.

Medical Member: CHARLES C. BEACH, M.D., Hartford.

DISTRICT BOARD No. 2

Headquarters: Waterbury.

Jurisdiction: Counties of New London, Middlesex and New Haven, except Local Boards 7 and 8 of New Haven.

Medical Member: DUDLEY B. DEMING, M.D., Waterbury.

DISTRICT BOARD No. 3

Headquarters: Bridgeport.

Jurisdiction: County of Fairfield and Local Boards No. 7 and 8 of New Haven.

Medical Member: GEORGE B. COWELL, M.D., Bridgeport.

MEDICAL ADVISORY BOARDS

The Selective Service Regulations of November 8, 1917, provided for the appointment of Medical Advisory Boards to which appeal on medical questions could be made from the decision of the Local Board and to which the local board physicians could refer doubtful cases for a final decision. These boards were composed of groups of specialists who examined doubtful cases more critically than the physicians of the local boards and thus gave the local boards the benefit of their greater special knowledge.

Pursuant to these regulations seventeen Medical Advisory Boards were formed largely through the personal work of Major D. Chester Brown, M.D. of Danbury, Medical Advisor to the Governor.

NATIONAL WAR COMMITTEES

NATIONAL COMMITTEE FOR MEDICAL PREPAREDNESS

On April 14, 1916 a number of eminent physicians met in the Union League Club of Chicago and organized a "Committee of American Physicians for Medical Preparedness."

It was voted that they offer their services to the President of the United States for the purpose of making a comprehensive survey of the medical resources of the country, including the names of the men trained in the specialties of medicine, surgery and sanitation and also an invoice of the extensive equipment under their control, such as hospital facilities and nurses.

This offer was made to the President on April 26, 1916. It was referred to the Secretary of War who, after consultation with the Surgeon General, accepted it and delegated to the committee the responsibility of developing a plan of national organization for investigating and cataloging the vast civilian resources of the country for use in national defense.

With the Coöperation of the Presidents of the American Medical Association, the American Surgical Association, the Congress of American Physicians and Surgeons, the Clinical Congress of Surgeons of North America and the American College of Surgeons, the original committee was expanded into a National Committee with State Committees and Field Aides. William J. Mayo, M.D., was made Chairman of the National Committee and Frank F. Simpson, M.D., Secretary.

Each State Committee consisted of nine members and there was one Field Aide in each State, all appointed by the National Committee.

The State Committee for Connecticut was:

Joseph M. Flint, M.D., Chairman	New Haven
Samuel M. Garlick, M.D.	Bridgeport

When the Council of National Defense was created all the committees on Medical Preparedness were merged into it and its sub-committees.

COUNCIL OF NATIONAL DEFENSE

By an act of Congress, approved August 29, 1916, an advisory body was created and designated as "The Council of National Defense." This Council consisted of the Secretary of War, Secretary of Navy, Secretary of Agriculture, Secretary of Commerce and Secretary of Labor, with an advisory commission of seven. The act provided that each member of the advisory commission should gather about himself, for the most effective coördination of the activity he represented, a committee or board of representatives of the Government Departments and of eminent civilian members.

In recognition of the important rôle medicine must play in any comprehensive plan for preparedness, President Wilson on October 11, 1916, appointed Franklin H. Martin, M.D., a member of the civilian advisory commission. Dr. Martin then gathered about him the following medical men as the W. C. Woodward, M.D., Health Officer of the District of Columbia, Washington, D. C.

Prior to our entry into the war, the principal work of this committee consisted in lining up the medical profession of the country so that a large body of medical men, fairly well classified according to their special qualifications, might be immediately available when the war came. This was accomplished by the formation in each State of a committee known as the "State Committee, Council of National Defense, Medical Section" and the further formation by this committee of an "Auxiliary Medical Defense Committee" in each County.

Just as soon as the United States entered the war all these committees became very active and their preliminary work then proved the saving of months of time. The first major activity of the State committee, working with and through the County auxiliary committees, was perfecting a list of all the medical men in the State and classifying them according to age, family necessities, community requirements and hospital obligations.

The committee soon discovered that there was no accurate list of the doctors in the State. The Health Department and the American Medical Directory each had one, but as these lists did not agree and as both were suspected to be incorrect, the Governor ordered a special enrollment of the Connecticut doctors.

Using this enrollment list as a basis, checking and cross checking it with other lists, the following figures were arrived at:

Total number of doctors in Connecticut in 1917	1832
Deduct,
Women doctors	46
Retired from practice	16
Residents but in practice elsewhere	6
Irregular practitioners (M.D.)	3
Dentists (M.D.)	2
Druggists (M.D.)	1
	74
Total active male doctors	1758

Deduct,
Those over 55 years of age	343
Those age unknown	112
	<hr/>	455
		1303

By personal investigation nearly all of the 112 of unknown age were found to be unfit for any kind of military service.

Roughly speaking then, there were about 1,300 doctors in the State from among whom Connecticut's quota for the war must be obtained.

As soon as war was declared many doctors immediately applied for commissions in the Medical Officers' Reserve Corps of the Army or in the Navy, but after the first rush was over these voluntary applications were not enough to keep up with the constantly increasing call for medical officers from Washington. Moreover, in many places all the doctors had "gone to war" and no one was left to attend to the needs of the people at home.

The 1,300 doctors in the State were divided by the Committee into three classes as follows:

CLASS A. This included all those who according to the information obtained by the committee could and should apply for a commission in the Army or Navy immediately.

CLASS B. Those who; though less able to go, could go; and should be called upon to apply for a commission when Class A was exhausted.

CLASS C. Those who for various reasons, like physical disability, hospital and community obligations, could not be called upon.

In order that no injustice of any kind should be done, this work of classification necessitated innumerable personal interviews as well as obtaining outside information regarding the doctors within the age limitations. The constantly increasing size of the Army and the consequent continued call of the Surgeon General's Office for more and more Medical Officers kept the Committee very busy revising their lists and protecting, so far as possible, the necessities of the doctor's family and of the people whom he served.

When Class A became exhausted, as it did, Class B was subdivided into B-1 and B-2 by a closer line of demarkation in availability. As a matter of fact B-1 had become practically exhausted and the men in B-2 were being called upon to apply for commissions when the war closed.

The minutes of the first meeting of this committee read, in part, as follows:

"The first meeting of the State Medical Defense Committee was held at the Graduate Club, New Haven, on Saturday, April 14th, 1917, at 6.30 p. m. The following were present: Joseph M. Flint, D. Chester Brown, S. M. Garlick, E. J. McKnight, C. C. Godfrey, E. W. Smith, W. F. Verdi, W. R. Steiner, R. A. McDonnell and M. M. Scarbrough.

The meeting was called to order at 8 p. m. by Dr. Flint. D. Chester Brown was elected Chairman. Dr. Flint briefly outlined the work of the committee. The first duty of the committee will be to secure the enlistment of young physicians in the Army and Navy medical services. The second duty will be the enlistment of medical men in the Medical Reserve Corps of the Army, the Navy, the Coast Defense and the National Guard. It is estimated that Connecticut should at this time enlist from 100 to 150 men.

For financing the work of the committee it was voted that a tax of five dollars be laid on each member and that the Secretary, Dr. Scarbrough, act as Treasurer.

The following County Committees were appointed:

HARTFORD COUNTY:

A. M. Rowley, M.D., *Chairman*Hartford
George N. Bell, M.D.Hartford
T. E. Reeks, M.D.New Britain

NEW HAVEN COUNTY:

TOLLAND COUNTY:

Thomas F. Rockwell, M.D., *Chairman*Rockville
W. L. Higgins, M.D.South Coventry
John P. Hanley, M.D.Stafford Springs

It was voted that each County Committee should consist of three members as recorded above and the President and Secretary of the respective County Societies.

It was voted that a traveling committee be appointed, whose duty would be to visit the various Counties and aid in the enlistment of medical men in the M. O. R. C. The following were appointed on this committee: J. M. Flint, M.D., Chairman, E. T. Bradstreet, M.D., and Frank K. Hallock, M.D.

The matter of an inventory of the hospitals and other medical reserve forces of the State was left for consideration at a future meeting."

Unfortunately the minutes of all meetings of this Committee subsequent to this first one have been lost. Consequently no definite dates can be given to the changes in personnel of the Committee and much of its work cannot be here recorded.

As the work of the above committees progressed it became necessary to make changes in the personnel. Some entered the Service; some were assigned to other lines of war work and the extensive activities required additional members.

F. J. Adams, M.D., A. A. Crane, M.D., J. M. Flint, M.D., A. M. Rowley, M.D., W. F. Verdi, M.D., and O. G. Wiedman, M.D., entered active service.

Dr. R. A. McDonnell's duties on the M. O. R. C. and M. C. Examining Boards required all of his time.

As a consequence, some time in the summer of 1917, the State Committee was reorganized and the membership increased as follows:

STATE WAR COMMITTEES

STATE COUNCIL OF DEFENSE

The inspiration for the appointment of the Connecticut State Council of Defense came from the following letter sent by the Secretary of War acting as Chairman of the Council of National Defense:

COUNCIL OF NATIONAL DEFENSE

WASHINGTON

April 9, 1917.

To the Honorable MARCUS H. HOLCOMB,
Governor of Connecticut,
Hartford, Conn.

SIR:—The Council of National Defense, as empowered by Act of Congress, August 29, 1916, is now engaged in the work of preparation for the war and in the coördination of the resources and energies of the Nation.

It holds itself in readiness to coöperate with the States to bring about the most effective coördination of activities and procedure for the general good of the Nation and the successful prosecution of the war, and it invites the States to advise with it.

To further the prompt and energetic organization which the situation demands, it recommends the creation, by the States, of committees with broad powers, to coöperate with the Council—such committees to perhaps be known as State Councils of Defense—these committees to be representative of the State's resources.

Please advise us as promptly as possible of action being taken or contemplated in Connecticut in furtherance of the National Defense. Please send us full information with copies of all laws, and forms relating thereto.

Very truly yours,

(signed) NEWTON D. BAKER,
Secretary of War and Chairman of the Council of National Defense.

In accord with this request and acting under the authority of Chapter 44 of the Public Acts of 1917 the Governor appointed the Council on April 26, 1917.

The duties of the Council were to act with the Governor and under his direction "to conduct the prosecution of the war so far as it concerns this State and—to coöperate with other States and with the Federal Government—to organize and to choose such others to act with it in the prosecution of its duties as it may deem advisable and to do all other acts necessary to carry into effect the purposes for which it is created."

Organization was the first task to which the Council addressed itself. In order to carry on the work with which it was charged the Council determined to organize functional committees and it became an unwritten rule that no member of the Council should be chairman of any of these committees. Consequently a chairman was appointed for each committee and the chairman then made nominations of proper persons to serve on his committee but the actual appointment of these persons was made by the Council itself.

Each committee could present its plans to the Council through its chairman and when they received the endorsement of the Council the committee could proceed to put them into execution.

It was recognized from the beginning that it would be a distinct gain if chairman and members of the committees should attend the Council meetings. In this way only could they gain a thorough comprehension of the motives that dictated policy and the details which made policy effective. Consequently each weekly session of the Council was open to and was attended by the members of the various committees.

As a result of this procedure the utmost efficiency was obtained by coöperation and coördination among all those entrusted with the duty of carrying on the work of the Council.

Of the various committees organized by the Council we, in this history, have to do principally with the "Committee on Sanitation and Medicine." There were other committees on which members of the medical profession served and these will be noted later.

COMMITTEE ON SANITATION AND MEDICINE

The Committee on Sanitation and Medicine was organized in June 1917. It was composed of a chairman, a member of the medical profession from each county, the Health Commissioner of the State and a sanitary engineer.

Charles C. Godfrey, M.D. of Bridgeport was appointed Chairman and on his recommendation the following were appointed by the Council.

Hartford County, John F. Dowling, M.D.	Hartford
New Haven County, Ralph A. McDonnell, M.D.	New Haven
Fairfield County, Harris F. Brownlee, M.D.	Danbury
New London County, John G. Stanton, M.D.	New London
Litchfield County, Elias Pratt, M.D.	Torrington
Tolland County, Thomas F. Rockwell, M.D.	Rockville
Middlesex County, George N. Lawson, M.D.	Middle Haddam
Windham County, Robert C. White, M.D.	Willimantic
Health Commissioner, John T. Black, M.D.	Hartford
Sanitary Engineer, James A. Newlands, S.E.	Hartford

Owing to the fact that he was very busy with his work as an examiner for the M. O. R. C., Ralph A. McDonnell, M.D., resigned and Frank H. Wheeler, M.D. of New Haven, was appointed in his place. John G. Stanton, M.D. was made an officer in the Public Health Service and Charles B. Graves of New London took his place. On account of press of other war work, Dr. Pratt resigned, and his place was filled by Frederic W. Wersebe, M.D., of Washington.

Later on, two representatives of the dental profession were added and in September, 1917, two representatives of the Woman's Committee. The Committee as finally constituted and organized was:

Charles C. Godfrey, M.D., Chairman	Bridgeport

The Committee on Sanitation and Medicine undertook to follow out the recommendations of the Secretary of War in combating venereal disease and called a conference which was in part responsible for the employment of police women under the supervision of the Health and Recreation Department, but acting under the authority of the State Police.

The committee gave its attention to the possibilities of transportation of injured men. It was found that the only ports in which wounded men could be landed were New Haven, New London and Bridgeport and that the Surgeon General's office had arranged for proper train service. A full list of ambulances and motor cars within the State, suitable for such work, was compiled by the committee.

A list of all surgical supplies in the hospitals of the State was made with a view to seeing that they were adequate to meet any emergency. In addition a survey of the hospitals and their capacity was made. There were twenty-one hospitals with a normal capacity of 3,055, which in emergency could be expanded to 4,034. It was found to be necessary to provide not only for persons wounded in the war but for possible catastrophies in the large munition plants. In order to take care of this a comprehensive emergency organization was requisite. Under direction of the War Bureau of New Haven, C. C. Elwell, Public Utilities Commissioner, Frederick L. Ford, City Engineer, and Frank H. Wheeler, M.D., evolved a plan which became the model for other cities in the State. As many doctors were assigned positions in this plan a detailed description of it is given in the Appendix (q. v.). For Bridgeport, Chas. C. Godfrey, M.D., William A. LaField, M.D. and others worked out an excellent plan, a description of which is given in the report of the State Council of Defense.

The Committee offered its services to secure the treatment and cure of minor defects which would cause rejection from the Service by examining boards working under the Selective Service Law. The Draft Boards were requested to recommend proper cases to the Committee and arrangements were made with a number of hospitals for gratuitous treatment. These facilities were fairly well availed of and a number of men were inducted into the Service after undergoing treatment.

The Committee played a part in seeing that the ranks of the Medical Officers' Reserve Corps were filled, by having addresses made at all the meetings of the County Medical Societies, the State Medical Society and the Homeopathic Medical Society.

The Committee was discontinued on November 25, 1918.

Other committees of the State Council of Defense on which members of the medical profession served were:

In the Department of Americanization, Nicola Mariani, M.D., of New Haven, was a member of the Committee on Aliens.

Charles W. Knapp, M.D. of Greenwich, Kate C. Mead, M.D. of Middletown and Valeria H. Parker, M.D. of Hartford were members of the Health and Welfare of Children Department.

Walter H. Brown, M.D. of Bridgeport was a Director of the Child Welfare Department and John T. Black, M.D., Hartford, was a member.

Valeria H. Parker, M.D., Hartford, was Chairman of the Health and Recreation Department.

Walter R. Steiner, M.D., Hartford, was a member of the Department of Historical Records.

The Medical Service Department (Woman's Department) examined women for the Land Army, using much the same standards as in the examination of soldiers. This committee also made plans for the care of widows and children of soldiers and for maternity work in various districts. The members of this Committee were:

Kate C. Mead, M.D., Chairman	Middletown
Jessie W. Fisher, M.D.	Middletown
Harriet Baker Hyde, M.D.	Greenwich
Ier Jay Manwaring, M.D.	Norwich
Laura H. Hills, M.D.	Willimantic
Caroline North Stevens, M.D.	West Cornwall
Ellen P. O'Flaherty, M.D.	Hartford
Alice P. Ford, M.D.	New Haven
S. Mary Ives, M.D.	Middletown
Stella Q. Root, M.D.	Stamford

D. Chester Brown, M.D., Danbury, was a member of the State Council of Defense and the only medical man on it.

Dr. Brown was also Medical Aid to the Governor, being appointed November 13, 1917. When he was ordered to Washington for duty in the Provost Marshal General's office, July 28, 1918, he resigned the position and Walter R. Steiner, M.D., Hartford, was appointed in his place. Dr. Steiner continued as Medical Aid to the Governor until the end of the war.

VOLUNTEER
MEDICAL SERVICE CORPS

VOLUNTEER MEDICAL SERVICE CORPS

Early in 1918 it was recognized that, if the war continued, with its consequent draft on the medical profession for medical officers, the question of protecting the absolute necessities of industry, rural communities, boards of health and teaching institutions would assume tremendous importance. The whole medical profession would, of necessity, have to be organized, classified and given a quasi-military status in order that assignments of physicians, unfit for strictly military duty, could be made so as to protect the interests named.

The Surgeon General's Office had no machinery for carrying out such a plan and consequently the work was undertaken by the Council of National Defense. On the recommendation of the chairman of the Medical Section, the Council authorized and directed the committee to organize the Volunteer Medical Service Corps. This authorization was made January 31, 1918, and it was specified that there should be a Central Governing Board of ten with Edw. P. Davis, M.D., as president. It was contemplated that the Volunteer Medical Service Corps should be made up of physicians ineligible for the Medical Reserve Corps on account of age, physical disability or civil needs, and of women physicians. The work of enrollment was not pushed very vigorously until the latter part of the summer.

On August 2, 1918, the rules of organization were revised and the Central Governing Board was increased to twenty-five as follows:

Surgeon General William C. Gorgas, U. S. A.
Surgeon General William C. Braisted, U. S. N.
Surgeon General Rupert Blue, U. S. P. H. S.
Provost Marshal General Enoch H. Crowder, U. S. A.
Franklin Martin, M.D.
Edward P. Davis, M.D., President.
John D. McLean, M.D., Vice-President.

Charles E. Sawyer, M.D.
Rear Admiral Cary T. Grayson, U. S. N.
F. F. Simpson, M.D.
Frank Billings, M.D.
H. D. Arnold, M.D.
W. Frank Persons, American Red Cross.
Victor C. Vaughan, M.D.
William H. Welch, M.D.
Robert L. Dickinson, M.D.
Colonel Reuben B. Miller, U. S. A.
Surgeon R. C. Ramsdell, U. S. N.
Colonel James Easby-Smith, U. S. A.
Joseph Schereschewsky, M.D., U. S. P. H. S.
C. H. Mayo, M.D.
William D. Robinson, M.D.
George David Stewart, M.D.
Duncan Eve, Sr., M.D.
Emma Wheat Gillmore, M.D.

The scope of the Volunteer Medical Service Corps was enlarged to include every physician in the country not already in Government service.

This revised plan received the sanction of the National Council of Defense on August 5, 1918, and was approved by the President on August 12th, 1918, by the following letter:

My Dear Dr. Martin:

I am very happy to give my approval to the plans which you have submitted, both because of the usefulness of the Volunteer Medical Service Corps, and also because it gives me an opportunity to express to you and through you to the medical profession my deep appreciation of the splendid service which the whole profession has rendered to the Nation with great enthusiasm from the beginning of the present emergency. The health of the Army and the Navy, the health of the country at large, is due to the coöperation which the public authorities have had from the medical profession; the spirit of sacrifice and service has been everywhere present and the record of the mobilization of the many forces of this great Republic will contain no case of readier response or better service than that which the physicians have rendered.

Cordially and faithfully yours,

(signed) WOODROW WILSON.

The object of the Volunteer Medical Service Corps was:

1. To place on record all medical men and women in the United States.
2. To provide means for obtaining quickly men and women for any service required.
3. To provide the best civilian medical service possible.
4. To aid the Army, Navy and Public Health Service in supplying war medical needs.
5. To determine beyond question the attitude of the individual toward the war.

Its working plans called for:

1. A Central Governing Board.
2. Forty-nine State executive committees.
3. One representative in each county in every State.

The Executive Committee for Connecticut was:

Phineas H. Ingalls, M.D., Chairman	Hartford
Frank H. Wheeler, M.D., Secretary	New Haven
Charles G. Godfrey, M.D.	Bridgeport
Edward B. Hooker, M.D.	Hartford
Seldom B. Overlock, M.D.	Pomfret
Thomas F. Rockwell, M.D.	Rockville
John G. Stanton, M.D.	New London

COUNTY REPRESENTATIVES:

Fairfield County, Frank M. Tukey, M.D.	Bridgeport
Hartford County, John F. Dowling, M.D.,	Hartford
Litchfield County, Elias Pratt, M.D.	Torrington
Middlesex County, Frank K. Hallock, M.D.	Cromwell
New Haven County, Frank H. Wheeler, M.D.	New Haven
New London County, John G. Stanton, M.D.	New London
Tolland County, Thomas F. Rockwell, M.D.	Rockville
Windham County, Geo. M. Burroughs, M.D.	Danielson

An intensive campaign for enrollment was initiated in September, 1918, and brought nearly 60,000 applications for membership before the end of October, each applicant pledging himself to place his services at the Government's disposal to perform any duty assigned to him.

The method adopted for securing membership in the Corps was that the County Representative should urge every eligible physician in his district to apply and in addition to this every supposedly eligible man or woman was circularized direct from Washington. Each person was furnished with a blank which he or she was requested to fill out and send to the Secretary of the Executive Committee or direct to Washington. A copy of this blank application is shown in the Appendix.

When the completed applications were received by the Central Governing Board the names of the applicants were sent to the State Executive Committee for its recommendation. If the Committee approved, then the person was accepted for membership in the Corps. If the Committee disapproved, the person was rejected by the Central Board without question.

Each member, when accepted, was given a certificate and presented with an insignia which he was required to wear at all times. The insignia was a bronze button bearing on its face the letters: V. M. S. C.

Five hundred and thirty one applications for membership in the Corps were received by the Connecticut State Executive Committee. Of these, twelve were disapproved by the Committee and were rejected by the Central Governing Board.

The following 519 having been approved by the Committee were enrolled as members of the Corps:

JOHN L. GILSON*Third Aid*
FREDERICK L. FORD*Fourth Aid*

GENERAL INSTRUCTIONS TO BE FOLLOWED IN CASE OF AN EXTRAORDINARY EMERGENCY, SUCH AS AN EXPLOSION, A FIRE OR A RIOT

ALL DEPARTMENTS AND ORGANIZATIONS called into service will be governed by orders and instructions given by the Mayor or members of his Staff.

1. POLICE AND FIRE DEPARTMENTS. The Police and Fire Departments finding a condition which requires them to call for the aid of other organizations, will immediately notify the Chief Operator of the Southern New England Telephone Company.

2. SOUTHERN NEW ENGLAND TELEPHONE COMPANY. Upon receipt of a call from the Police or Fire Department for assistance, the Telephone Company will issue calls in accordance with lists which are kept on file with the Chief Operator. The Company will also send a corps of male operators, messengers, and extra telephones to the Scene of Accident and to the Central Headquarters and will handle all existing and extra telephones.

3. CENTRAL HEADQUARTERS will be established at the Graduates Club where the Mayor and his Staff will take general charge. Upon receipt of notice, representatives of the War Bureau, City Departments, Military Organizations, Boy Scouts, Medical Association, Red Cross, Public Service Companies and the Automobile Club, will report at Central Headquarters.

The Chief of Police will station a sufficient number of men near Central Headquarters and on the line of travel between that point and the Scene of Accident to keep a clear road for automobiles.

4. DOCTORS AND NURSES. Certain Doctors and Nurses have been assigned to report immediately at the Scene of Accident.

Their first duty will be to establish a dressing and clearing station. All injured persons will be brought to this station.

First aid will be given when needed and the patient sent home or to the hospital as, in the judgment of the doctor in charge, the case requires.

The Telephone Company will establish a telephone with an operator at this station.

Extra doctors, nurses and supplies, as well as any other assistance, will be ordered by the doctor in charge from Central Headquarters. A number of doctors and nurses have been assigned to each hospital and they will report immediately at their respective hospitals when called for service.

Doctors not assigned will, when called for duty, report at Central Headquarters and nurses not assigned will report at the United Church Parish House on Temple Street, near Elm Street. From these points such doctors and nurses will be sent where they are most needed.

Passes have been issued to doctors and nurses, giving specific instruction as to where they are to report. These passes will be honored by the police and other guards.

5. HOSPITALS, on receiving information of a calamity from the Telephone Company, will send their ambulances to the Scene of Accident. Each ambulance will take one doctor, three nurses, one Red Cross emergency kit and extra surgical dressings. These doctors and nurses will remain at the Scene of Accident until the assigned doctors and nurses arrive, when they may return to their respective hospitals. Hospitals will get their operating rooms ready and make such other preparations for receiving the injured as the magnitude of the calamity may demand.

6. MOTOR VEHICLES. Automobiles commandeered or called to service will park on the south side, and motorcycles on the north side, of Elm Street, between College and Church Streets. Trucks will line up on Temple Street south of and as near as possible to Elm Street. All motor vehicles will be decorated with special flags (See cover). These flags, with cords for fastening, will be kept on hand at the Graduates Club ready for distribution by messengers as automobiles report for service.

After parking, motor vehicles will remain in their places in charge of their drivers who will respond to orders when called.

Upon completing an order, automobiles, trucks and motorcycles will immediately return to headquarters at the Graduates Club, and there await further instructions. The Automobile Club will have a representative stationed at Central Headquarters, who will attend to the movement of motor cars and keep such record of their movements as may be deemed advisable.

7. THE HOME GUARD, GOVERNOR'S FOOT GUARD, YALE R. O. T. C., YALE NAVAL TRAINING UNIT, AND U. S. NAVAL RESERVE FORCE, upon receiving an emergency call, will assemble at their respective headquarters and await directions from the Central Headquarters. Each organization will have a representative stationed at Central Headquarters.

8. MESSENGER SERVICE will be provided by the Home Guard motorcycle company, volunteer motorcyclists and Boy Scouts. Motorcyclists will report at Central Headquarters on north side of Elm Street.

9. BOY SCOUTS will meet at the Center Church Parish House, 311 Temple Street^d (at the rear of the Public Library), where they will await orders.

10. PUBLIC SERVICE COMPANIES. In addition to their own work, public service companies will render all assistance possible to the City departments. Each will have a representative at Central Headquarters.

11. GENERAL EMERGENCY WORK. Detailed plans have been prepared for general emergency work such as tearing down walls of buildings, removing debris, dynamiting buildings and replacing with temporary structures bridges which may be destroyed. A large number of engineers, builders and general contractors will report to the City Engineer for service upon notice. Plans and bills of material have been made for temporary bridges. Wrecking and dynamiting squads have been organized.

12. CLERGY. Clergymen called by telephone will be free to use their judgment as to where they can render the best services. Card passes will be issued to them.

13. RED CROSS headquarters will be at the United Church Parish House on Temple Street, near Elm Street. This organization will arrange for feeding firemen, guards and other workers. It will also provide food, clothing and shelter for unfortunates, and will raise the necessary funds to care for all relief work.

14. MORGUE. The Coroner will select from the list below (depending upon the location of the catastrophe) a building for the reception of bodies awaiting identification.

Mr. Fred Siegle's Gymnasium Building, 215 Newhall Street (near Winchester's factory).

James Street Car Barn of the Connecticut Company, corner State and James Streets.

Smedley's Storehouse, corner Chapel and Hamilton Streets.

Music Hall, Court Street, between Orange and State Streets.

INDEX OF NAMES

INDEX OF NAMES

In some cases it will be found that the name in the index does not agree with the name in the body of the book as to initials. This is due to the fact that the name was given in one way on one list and another way on a second list. The compiler did not feel justified in changing a name on any list unless he happened to have the name in the man's handwriting. In a few instances this was so poor that he did not dare trust to it.
